CAMPBELL, SANTA CLARA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA.

FRIDAY, DEC. 3, 1926.

The harvest of Imperial valley grapefruit began early in November and will continue until well on in the spring. A recent survey of the groves indicates that the crop will be larger than that of last year. The fruit is large and the trees are heavily loaded.

If experiments in the growing of the Guayale plant for rubber in Tulare county are satisfactory, there is no reason why a vast acreage of more or less arid land in Tulare county cannot be set to this plant and made to produce returns where no returns are now available, according to Frank R. Brann, county horticultural commissioner.

An insect addict to night life is causing farmers of Tulare county, a good deal of worry and so far no positive control has been developed. The pest is the Serica, a small beetle, which sleeps all day in the ground and comes out in the dark to eat the leaves of orchard and shade trees. Arsenical spray has reduced the danger somewhat.

Although the harvest of fruit at Owensmouth is about over, there is no let-up in the work of orchardists. Apricot trees are being pruned and with the nuts off the walnut trees care and irrigation occupies the attention of the owners. Young groves are being irrigated and cultivated. The grape growers are having a breathing spell, however.

The California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association were awarded damages by Judge R. L. Thompson of the Superior Court, Santa Rosa, in several actions brought against grower members for failure to live up to their contracts to deliver prunes. Judgments were given against Horace Hosmer for $4,000 and against L. Hallengren and L. Belvall for $7,067 and $1,300 interest.

The tomato packing season is well advanced at La Habra and the packing house has been shipping at the rate of about two cars a day. It is estimated that the season will see sixty cars of tomatoes roll from La Habra. Many of the ranchers have grown tomatoes, along with their tree fruits, but some growers are beginning to develop a considerable acreage in vegetables exclusively.

Although milo is, with cotton, the last crop of the year in King county, the favoring weather made its harvest possible without loss this season. There were large plantings of both white and red milo on the Tulare lake bed west of Corcoran, and also on the west side plains. On the latter the crop ripens early, the plantings made in April being ready to take off in August. Elsewhere the harvest came much later.

According to the files of County Horticultural Commissioner H. P. Stabler, Sutter county, brought up-to-date, the number of growers of cling peaches in Sutter county is 935. Stabler recently mailed to each of these growers a letter containing suggestions for peach rust control through early fall spraying. Early pruning and the removal of all dead or infected wood are among the hints given by Stabler.

The turkey growers of Imperial valley have revised their marketing organization and it has entered into a contract with a Los Angeles concern to take the fowls this season. Already it has sold a number of birds at 55 cents a pound dressed. The turkeys are sold under the "Blue Ribbon" brand and the demand has been quite strong. This is the third year that the local turkey growers' association has operated.

Salve Bue, who has made a great success cultivating potatoes in Burney valley, Shasta county, for the last few years, urges that the farmers of eastern Shasta county should give more attention to growing that staple vegetable. Seven thousand sacks of potatoes have been produced this year on eighty acres, 4,000 sacks being of the best grade, according to Bue. Fred Greer produced 3,000 sacks on forty acres, of which 2,400 sacks were first grade. Over in Hat Creek valley N. Reynolds produced 800 sacks in a patch of six acres.

Golden State News of Interest to All

The county health officer of Mendocino county has discovered at least thirty cases of smallpox among the Indian men and women and children.

At the home of Mrs. Mary Bond on the old Santa Rosa road, near Petaluma, there is a lilac tree sixty years old in full blossom.

A new subdivision has been opened in the southern part of Vernon which consists of thirty acres, all platted in one-acre divisions, these to be used for factory sites.

Preliminary plans for a Yolo county flower show to be held in Woodland in the early spring were being arranged by Mrs. A. B. Welch, president of the Garden club.

Erected in honor of the Argonauts of the days of '49, the Pioneer Memorial church, erected by the Congregationalists of Sacramento and vicinity, was dedicated at Sacramento recently. The church stands just across L street from the historic Sutter fort. Rev. Harley Gill, pastor of the church made the principal address.

The Bank of Italy has awarded a contract to build a $50,000 bank building at Long Beach. The structure will rise one story on a site 80x120 feet at the corner of Third street and American avenue. It will contain five store rooms in addition to banking quarters, and it will be built of brick with stucco and cast stone exterior.

K. C. Iwata, Brawley, recently shipped the first full carload of spinach of this season to Chicago. This firm will ship thirty cars more while the total shipments for Imperial valley will probably double that figure. Spinach has not been shipped during the last three seasons, though in former years was handled extensively.

The Yreka chamber of commerce has appointed a special committee to seek a conference with army officials at Presidio to inquire what will be necessary to make Yreka's airplane field an official army-plane landing field. Army planes cannot land except as designated. Presidio officials declare the Yreka field is without any air pockets and landing can readily be made from either side.

Officials of the Baptist church at Arbuckle, have refused to accept the resignation of the pastor, Rev. Walter F. Grigg, who had announced his intention of removing to Red Bluff. Rev. Grigg was urged to remain in Arbuckle with the promise that more modern methods would be adopted in church administration. As a first step in this direction a fine radio set was ordered purchased.

Deaths exceeded birth in San Joaquin county for the first time in three years during the month of October, according to figures given out by the San Joaquin health district. During October there were only ninety-one births, compared with one hundred and sixteen deaths, exclusive of deaths at the state hospital. Births for the first ten months of the year totaled 1,362, compared with 1,456 for the same period.

Conditions in the Amador county jail at Jackson, are flayed in the report of the grand jury, which has been investigating the bastille. The prisoners are declared to be without fresh air, while the beds and bedding are called unfit for human use. The release of two of the prisoners is demanded because their health is declared to have been undermined by the conditions under which they have been serving their sentences.

The Lodi Union high school judging team won one perpetual silver trophy cup offered by the California Jersey Breeders' Association and four silver medals in the recent dairy cow judging contest at Oakland and the Pacific Slope Dairy show. Ripon school won first place by fifteen points from Lodi with Santa Rosa twelve points ahead of Lodi. The scores were: Ripon 1,220 points; Santa Rosa, 1,217; Lodi, 1,205.

Throwing additional light on the mystery fig trees which are located on the property of W. H. Seaver and L. Leroy King in Elm Court, Roseville, William Cassey, son of John Cassey, who bought the property in 1870 on which these fig trees are standing, drove up from Sacramento recently and informed King that the trees were from fourteen to sixteen years old when his father first bought the property. That makes the trees from ninety-six to 116 years old.

Floyd D. Young, Pomona, United States meteorologist and manager of the frost warning operations in the southern California citrus belt, has returned from San Francisco where he has been working during the summer with the Federal Weather Bureau and has again taken up his headquarters at Pomona. This winter he will have eight assistants in as many districts in directing forecasts of low temperatures.

COUNTY C. OF C. DOES VALUABLE WORK IN 1926

WENDELL C. THOMAS
MAKES RECOMMENDATIONS FOR 1927

Encouragement of conventions to be held throughout the Santa Clara Valley, participation in the State Fair at Sacramento are two of the recommendations made by Wendell C. Thomas, recently President of Santa Clara County Consolidated Chambers of Commerce, in his annual report.

In the past year the Consolidated has been very active and has accomplished much for the Valley, especially in the way of publicity. The organization has held 12 meetings during the year in different towns represented. They have made a close tie-up with Californians Inc. in advertising the Central part of California on a National Scale. Another important high spot is the work of the Sanitation committee, headed by Dr. Merrill of Campbell.

Our County Booklet has been the cause for much favorable comment from many sources. Dr. Rastall, Manager of Californian's Inc., whom I consider an outstanding authority on publicity, complimented it very highly. To date, 17,510 copies of 28 per cent of the total printed have been judiciously distributed since their delivery, June 1st, 1926; and copies are being mailed to enquirers and prospects every day.

The work of our Water Conservation Committee, headed by Mr. Roberts, deserves special commendation also; this committee has functioned well throughout the year and as many of you noticed in the Mercury Herald a few days ago, very definite steps had been taken on the east-side of the valley to remedy one of our most vital needs.

Our help on the proposed Bay Shore Highway has been greatly appreciated by those endeavoring to secure this much needed improvement, and it has been said on more than one occasion, by men prominent in this work, that Santa Clara County Consolidated could always be depended on to do its part.

The entertainment accorded the members of the National Editorial Association, was another event which has left an impression in the minds of the visitors that can never be erased. This committee, headed by Mr. Denhart, of Los Gatos, functioned most effectively. This, too, has resulted in wide-spread publicity.

LOS GATOS WINS HORSESHOE GAMES

Los Gatos won the first of the series of seven horseshoe contests between the San Jose and Los Gatos clubs by a score of 1173 points and 475 ringers to San Jose's 869 points and 365 ringers. The individual scores follow:

G. Turturici of San Tomas road had the misfortune to lose his house and all the contents, furniture and clothing in a fire Saturday evening. It is believed the fire was caused by the fireplace. The house was insured but this money will go to Frank Bangs the owner.

Report cards went out on Wednesday, November 17th. Following is the honor list, with explanations of honors:

Frances Barstow, Bertha Bolinger, Mildred Cannon, Nick Casella, Dora Finnemore, Ethel Fletcher, Ada Gardner, Clyde Janic, Oldrich Kalas, Elwyn Overshiner, Florence Silacci, Evelyn Smith, Nellie Steers, Bruce Stone.

A good deal of interest has been shown in the evening school which the high school is sponsoring. Mr. Cramer will have charge of the Bookkeeping and Arithmetic, Mr. Cutting will take the class in English and Current Events, and Miss Johnson will supervise the work in Applied Art.

Quite a large number of students have shown their intention of attending the classes. These classes were really intended for adults, but we are glad for the student's interest. Up to the present time the class in Applied Art seems to be the most popular among the students.

News has been received of the marriage of three of our former students.

Mary Rose and Carl Angelo were quietly married on Monday, November 22nd. James Hogan, '25, was married to Miss Dorothea Kornved, of King City, on Sunday, November 28th. Our best wishes go with these young people.

The Seniors have decided upon "Charley's Aunt" for their class play. Rehearsals will be given at once, with T. A. Cutting as coach.

The Girls' League is again voting upon the subject of middies and skirts. As yet, nothing has been definitely decided upon.

There will be a Boys' Jinx this Friday night in the gymnasium, with several boxing matches, a basketball game, and tugs of war between classes. There will be cake and hot dog refreshments. A good sum was realized by the Boys' Athletic Club paper drive. —Cecil Cutting and Irma Sanders, reporters.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Each year all the schools have two big play days—one in the Spring and the other in the Fall. They have created great enthusiasm because a large number of girls can participate. Those who cannot make a team have learned to keep score, referee and apply the principles of the various games. Miss Howes has created a new spirit among the girls and they have a better idea of sportsmanship because all co-operate.

Physical education increases physical vigor by building up health and fixing habits of cleanliness.

Last year a first aid course was given as a part of the physical education work. Now it has become a regular subject in school called Home Hygiene and is conducted by Mrs. Wiess, our school nurse.

"No one is afraid of getting hurt and all go out with enthusiasm and good spirit," says Julia Ruscigno.

GIRL'S PLAY DAY

The Campbell and Los Gatos Girls held a play-day in Los Gatos High School gymnasium the Friday before Thanksgiving. The principal events of the day were two basketball games. The Campbell Junior-Senior girls played the Los Gatos Junior-Senior girls and were victorious over them by a score of 17 to 4.

"MEET ME AT THE FAIR"

The Grange Fair which will be held in Campbell on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, Dec. 11, will be the outstanding event of the season. Great preparations are being made by the various committees.

There will be all kinds of exhibits and shows. Each one is under a separate head and each chairman is trying to make his feature the best possible.

The Hot Dog and Coffee, Cider and Gingerbread stand are preparing to feed you all all you want and are preparing other dishes never before served in California so bring your appetite.

The show so far is a secret but it is rumored that there are to be some of the best acrobats from New York and other sections and if the ceiling is high enough some high kickers will perform.

The Curio Shop will be full of curiosities from Texas and the "show me" state.

The White Elephant, although antique is a live one which will keep your interest.

The dances will be all the latest and the oldest and is expected to draw all the young people of the county.

The food sale will sharpen your appetite. The fancy work is of a select type and is the talk of the community, being the drawing card for the ladies. The nigger baby will be there for the sports and the kiddies will throng about the fishpond filled with speckled trout and codfish.

The candy booth will be the sweetest place on the zone and the most famous fortune teller will be there.

Flower Lovers will have the chance of a life time to select the latest in roses and shrubs. The country store will have everything from pickles to bananas and fresh soaps. The new slogan is "Meet me at the Fair."

Elliott Marrs, Cop

San Jose has acquired the last word in police equipment if muscle and head mean anything. Elliott Marrs, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Marrs is the new recruit and according to all the ethics among crooks it's best to play safe, for Ellie is sure some big and powerful boy. He stands six feet, weighs 220 without an ounce of fat. The question is, how long can chief Black keep chief O'Brien's hands off him.

A very enjoyable week-end house party in the form of a Thanksgiving reunion was held at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Wellington of Campbell recently. Relatives gathered from various parts of the state, including Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stewart of Corcoran, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Husong and daughter Virginia and Betty of Tulare, Mr. and Mrs. R. George Stewart of Hanford, Miss Charlotte E. Stewart of San Luis Obispo, Miss Ethel R. Stewart of Orange and Mr. and Mrs. M. Laurence Short of Hanford.

Some very fine team-work was done by Julia Ruscigno and Marjorie Miranda. Esther Hedegard and Evelyn Jensen scored a number of points. The Campbell Freshmen-Sophomore girls were defeated by a close score of 10 to 11. Martha Carlson starred by quick playing in the center, while Betty Nichols and Ada Gardner shot some nice goals.

One of the finest things about the day, in the opinion of Louise Freitas, was the good sportsmanship shown by both schools.

Our next play-day will be held in the San Jose High School gym, Dec. 11th. We hope to see a large number of the Campbell Boosters.

The many friends of Mrs. Geo. Wallace formerly, Miss Evelyn Henry, will extend congratulations upon the birth of a daughter Nov. 22, at Salinas. She has been named Georgia Ynez.

CHIEF WHITE TALKS OF BOY SCOUTS

Fred "Ford" Clancy did his bit at gavel-getting with his Kiwanis crew at the luncheon Wednesday. Atta boy, Freddie. His unanswerable quizzes cost some of the boys a few silver offerings.

Harrison White, big chief in the Boy Scouts in the central coast countries, gave a most interesting talk on the present day movements for our future citizens. There is a real need for such service clubs as Kiwanis to take an active part in this big work. Several boys who have been started in Scout Troops have already shown wonderful development. Campbell's troop has some very good material and there are enough boys outside to form another.

The local Kiwanis is much interested in the project and will before long work out a plan whereby something concrete will be started for our boys.

The "Hal" quartet, Cramer, Morton, Smith and Tuttle with Doc Merrill at the piano furnished special music. Steve Sunquist is chairman next week. Look out for a clean up, boys.

The election passed off very quietly and the officers as nominated were chosen with hardly a dissenting vote. They are: Pres. T. A. Cutting, Vice-Pres. Walt I. Merrill, Treasurer, D. Harold Cramer, Trustee, Chauncey H. Whitman, Directors, J. E. Wiesendanger, E. Russell Kennedy, Harry C. Smith, Victor Holmes, A. B. Gilson, Ira Abbott and Geo. Burrow.

Percy Dunlap, member of the attendance committee and one of the popular club members announced his departure and introduced his successor with the Standard Oil Co., Mr. Forrester. We are all sorry to see Percy leave but he goes with the very best wishes of his fellow club members and he will always find a warm welcome on his return.

PUNDITA CIRCLE ENTERTAINS GUESTS

Wednesday afternoon, the Pundita Circle observed its annual guest day, holding the meeting in We and Our Neighbors Club House in Union District.

Dr. A. E. Osborne of Los Gatos had been invited to address the club and gave a most entertaining talk on the history of California, taking as his subject, "The Six Flags of California." He spoke of the various countries that had laid claim to California and established colonies here, Spain, England, Russia and Mexico; followed by the Republic and then the United States.

Many little side lights and charming bits of history were related that added greatly to the interest.

Miss Anna Schulte gave a delightful character reading in costume, "Aunt Writty of the Hills" a mountain white woman visiting the school.

Dr. Osborne reported for his wife the work of the committees and County Supervisors on plans for the Dentention Home.

Beautifully decorated long tables were then brought in and the company was seated. Baskets of catone asters were used effectively with crystal candlesticks and red candles. The favors were cunning little imitation candlesticks made from candy and bearing little red candles.

The dainty luncheon was thoroughly enjoyed.

The officers were the committee, Mrs. J. J. Pardee, president, Mrs. Geo. Burrow, vice-president, Mrs. M. E. Purmort, secretary, Mrs. E. K. Clendenen, parliamentarian, and the hostess for the day, Mrs. E. O. La Montagne.

The Country Woman's Club will meet Monday, Dec. 6th, in the Community room, the subject for the afternoon is Drama.

Father and the Stove

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

The other day my father wrote:
"The time is drawing near
When we must move the hard-coal stove;
I wish that you were here!"
The message awakened memories
Of days when, as a lad,
I was compelled to answer such
A summons from my dad.

I well remember how we tugged
Until the blamed thing stood
Exactly on a certain spot
As Mother said it should;
And then about the time I thought
I might at last retire
I had to hold the bloomin' pipe
While Father fixed the wire.

Now, Father never said a word
To sterilize his soul;
He didn't think that "damn" or "hell"
Would help him reach his goal;
He grieved and suffered silently
And didn't cuss at all—
Unless in confidence he told
His troubles to the wall.

The melancholy atmosphere
That filled that old front room
While Father battled with a stove
Was like the fall of doom;
And yet tonight I'd like to go
In answer to his call—
To see if Father still confides
His troubles to the wall!

RELIGION AND BUSINESS

For centuries the world has declared for more religion in the every-day walks of life, and in more modern times men have preached the doctrine of religion in business. But of late there is a new slant on the relation of the one to the other. Instead of talking about putting religion INTO business, it is asserted that there should be no division: that business should be dominated and animated by the religious practice and attitude.

If this view could be adopted and maintained in all commercial dealings there would be little need of regulatory laws to guide men's acts and restrain their wrongs. If, in all business transactions men could act with the same fairness and put into use the recognized moral and religious percepts, the world would overnight witness a change for the better. If men and women in their homes, offices, stores, factories, farms, forests, mines, recreation places, as well as in their houses of worship, were imbued with the ideal that what they are doing IS or IS NOT religion, according to their works, thoughts and examples, there would come into being a new spirit in modern life. In fact this is coming. But many are still laboring under the idea that their work-a-day affairs are to admit only so much of religion as may have come to their convictions, or as the conventions of existing society warrant.

Religion and morality, without being used and DIFFUSED in all undertakings, are mere sentimental abstractions. It is by men's works that they are known.

CAN YOU NAME HIM?

Once there was a man named Naut.

He never took sides on any questions, political or otherwise.

When a controversy arose over remodeling the old church house, Naut managed to avoid giving his views if he had any.

Once a man slandered and knocked Naut's home town, but Naut did not raise a word of protest nor attempt a reply, for he wished to keep out of the shadow of contention.

At another time Naut had some goods to sell; but he did not advertise them for fear his competitor might contradict his claims to value and service. Such an "altercation" might disturb the quiet calm of Naut's life. If there was anything Naut liked it was an easy-going, non-contentious life.

But in the course of human events Naut died.

When he got up to the pearly gates, St. Peter asked him what he had stood for while on earth. Naut admitted to S. P. that he had never really taken a stand on anything.

So S. P. told Naut that a man who stood for nothing could stand anything, and that there was a place below that would just suit Naut.

Having never learned to stick up for his convictions, and for fear of "disturbing his quiet calm," Naut did not argue the matter, and turned away into Oblivion.

Thereafter Naut was naught.

A New Jersey youth shoots two people at the breakfast table. This wouldn't have happened had he obeyed the injunction: "Be good till ten o'clock in the morning and the rest of the day will take care of itself."

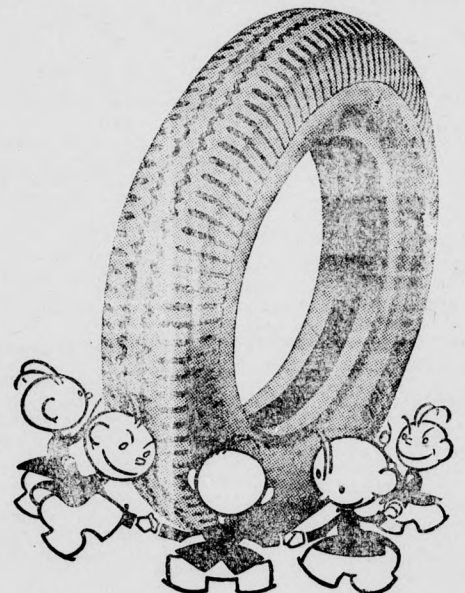

Good advertising is the life of trade, and the death of failure.

Playing With Fire

Adults do not purposely lay hold of hot pokers, but many play with fire in another form by entrusting their valuables and keepsakes to make-shift hiding places. It is an unwise practice, for disastrous losses through fire or theft may mean the sweeping away of the accumulations of a lifetime. A sum as small as four dollars a year will provide absolute safety in a Mercantile Trust Company of California safe deposit box. They are fire-proof, thief-proof and worry-proof.

Shop and Mail Early

In compliance with notice from Washington the mailing public notified that the last mail for the Hawaiian Islands carrying Christmas mail will sail December 16, to arrive at Honolulu, Dec. 22. If packages or letters are destined for other islands of the group they ought to be mailed earlier to be sure of distribution before Christmas Day.

Parcels for foreign countries which must pass through customs houses should be on their way. Several of the wise patrons of the local postoffice have already dispatched their foreign parcels, and have their domestic ones practically ready.

Remember, no Christmas seals or stickers may be placed on the face of parcels or first class mail, and no writing enclosed in parcels except simple greetings and names. If any messages or directions should accompany the package a letter may be pasted on the outside, bearing the usual letter postage, and so travel with it.

California Ranch News

The Sixth Annual Pacific Slope Dairy Show at the Oakland Municipal Auditorium, was more successful both in point exhibits and of attendance than any of the dairy shows of preceding years. The dairy cattle show breeders unite in saying that the dairy cattle showing is the most complete and most representative of the best pure bred cattle that has ever been assembled in the west, and this is particularly true of the Guernsey and Jersey entries. The Holstein entries were of high quality and were of about the same number as either the Guernseys or the Jerseys, approximately sixty of each of the three types. Only one herd of Ayrshires was entered, that of J. H. Rosseter of Wilkip Rancho, Santa Rosa, but this group of twelve animals would be among the blue ribbon winners in any company of Ayrshires in the United States.

A 4000-ton cargo of Argentine corn was recently unloaded at San Francisco Bay points. This is the second shipment of corn from the southern hemisphere which has arrived in the bay district within recent weeks, according to grain inspection officials of the California Department of Agriculture. "Within the last twelve or fifteen years," says L. M. Jeffers, chief of the Bureau of Grain, Seed and Warehouse Standardization, "Argentine, a large exporter of corn to European countries, has assumed not only the position of competitor of our corn exportation in European countries but has been able to produce and market corn under such a favorable situation as to enable it to ship its product into the United States itself."

This has been a very heavy grape shipping season for Kings county, according to Arthur Rittue, Hanford, inspector of the office of the county horticultural commissioner. For the season 3,327 cars were shipped, most of them being Muscats, and in addition 300 tons rolled by truck. Last year 3,218 cars of grapes were shipped from the county. The shipping season for grapes has continued for 90 days, a record in itself. It is estimated that 6,000 tons of raisins will be dried in Kings county this season.

MARBLE TOURNAMENT

At the Campbell Union Grammar School this week they are holding a marble tournament in the high and low fifth grades for the boys.

In planning this tournament we find that the boys get a great deal of fun and find that marbles is a good game, even if they do not play for keeps.

The winners will be published next week.

The following boys are playing.

Low Fifth

High Fifth Boys

Bennie Cirone, John Martinovich, Milton Hedegard, Jean Lear, Murry Martin, Joe Cirone, Edmund Mendosa, Frank Morrey.

"Thar's gold in them thar hills," up in Trinity county, and if you don't believe it, just listen to the story of Fred Miller. Fred Miller, an old-time prospector, believed that there was plenty of gold in the old Ozard mine in Rich Gulch near Helena, so he offered three weeks ago, to buy the property. The owner wanted $100, but Miller argued him down to $50. The aged prospector had only $65 and he needed that extra $15 for provisions. Well, all that glistens isn't gold, but you can't always tell how much gold is in a mine by the glitter, according to Miller. In the last three weeks he's taken $1,200 out of the abandoned Ozard mine, or exactly 24 times his investment, according to advices from Helena. And he is said to be bringing out the yellow metal at the rate of from $40 to $50 a day.

Tulare countians have just had offered to them another interesting bit of evidence supporting the established theory that mind and matter of every variety can thrive on its soil. In this instance the products are two books, just published by a well known publishing house, written by residents of the Three Rivers section, just below Sequoia National Park, dealing with the same fundamental—romance—yet handled in two distinctive manners. Major Frederick Burnham, 70-year-old frontiersman and holder of the British Distinguished Service medal, has recently described his 30 years as a plainsman and scout, a romantic subject which publishers had sought to obtain for a decade.

A definite objection to the movement of the Native Sons of the Golden West to have the body of General John A. Sutter brought from Lititz, Pennsylvania, and re-buried beside the historic Sutters' fort, which he erected in Sacramento in the early days, has been raised by the pioneer's grandson, Reginald R. Sutter, of San Francisco. "In my opinion, my grandfather does not need this fictitious honor," says Sutter in a letter received at Sacramento recently.

The old town well in Elk Creek, near Willows, with its old oaken bucket and chain, one of the last survivors of the old days of simple water supplies, is soon to be no more. It has been condemned by an official of the State Board of Health. The owner of the premises has been ordered to install a pump. The well has been in existence longer than Tehama county and has always been a favorite drinking place for thirsty travelers.

Since predatory animal control was instituted in Alameda county in August, 1924, 1,168 predatory animals have been killed within the county by state hunters, according to Earl V. Sands, State hunter, who supervises the work in five counties, including Alameda. Of the number killed, 900 were coyotes, and 268 bobcats. Nine bobcats and five coyotes were killed by state hunters in Alameda county during last October, Sands said.

Approximately $2,600 will be spent by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company in the extension work in the Livermore district, it was announced by John Robinson, Livermore agent for the company. New cables will be installed to accommodate additional telephone subscribers in the valley.

James Hardini, Windsor rancher, has purchased forty-two acres of the Bruner ranch, three miles south of Windsor, and will start a large dairy.

Californians are "putting the cart before the horse," in expenditures to combat illness, it was claimed by Dr. W. W. Cress, Sacramento city health officer. Taking Sacramento citizens as an example, Dr. Cress said that the average person spends $20 annually for medical care and treatment in illness, exclusive of patent medicines, and only 80 cents a year for disease prevention.

C. W. Forbes, manager of the Manteca telephone company, has been appointed a member of the county board of forestry to represent the Fifth supervisory district.

California Prunes To Be Advertised In United States

California Prunes are to be intensively advertised and merchandised in the mass markets of the East and middle West during 1927. For the past several months a committee representing the entire prune industry has been working on plans to this end. A sizeable fund has been contributed by the prune growers of the state for the purpose of carrying on the work.

The educating of the consuming public on the value of the prune—its health and food value—should be the first step in stabilizing the prune market for years to come. It is expected that the campaign planned for 1927 will be but a part of a continuous effort on the part of the prune industry to keep prunes in the public mind and on the dining tables of the nation.

The committee has selected N. W. Ayer and Son, Advertising Agents, of San Francisco, Philadelphia, New York and Chicago as their advertising counsel.
